...about the instructor

Dave Milnes is a professional pianist with a degree from the Berklee College of Music. Dave has been teaching music for 7 years in private and group settings. His modern style of teaching allows his students to develop their "musical ear" and learn to play any song in any key by ear. He also teaches the fundamentals of music, which enable his students to be able to read, write, sight read and improvise in any style.

Private lessons meet once a week in _ hour blocks. See the front desk for scheduling. Dave also offers private instruction in Music Theory, Songwriting, Lyric Writing, Music Technology and Guitar.
